

DECORATOR Project BUILDING A LIVABLE FUTURE TOGETHER!

What is Decorator Project all about? It's a new model of collaboration and intervention structured around building materials. We think they are the nutrients in metabolic building cycles and processes designed to prolong quality of raw materials to eliminate idea of waste altogether.

Our Goals! are to debate, think ahead and form communities of practice around pressing issues as •zero waste design practices •new materials, digital technologies •sustainable construction techniques •valorisation of cultural heritage and historic knowledge for skills and problem-solving •circular business models as well as health and wellbeing in the built environment.

Call to Action! Partners agreed that a house of the future in the Danube region shall become a role model, if it is actually realized in partnership with wide range of stakeholders.
